Peotone Fire Protection District’s “Coffee with the Chief” event slated for next week

Chief Steve Malone and command staff members to be on hand to answer questions about the future of fire service in the region

For Immediate Release

September 9, 2021

Peotone, IL – The Peotone Fire Protection District (PFPD) today announced that a “Coffee with the Chief” event next week will give Peotone residents an opportunity learn more about the work of the District in general and the long-term benefits a possible consolidation with the Manhattan Fire Protection District could deliver.

PFPD Chief Steve Malone, along with members of the PFPD command staff, will be on hand at the informal event. All Peotone residents seeking to learn more about the future of fire service in the region are invited to attend.

“We’ve been pleased so far with the response that we’ve received from the Peotone community about the potential benefits of consolidation,” said Chief Malone. “But we also understand that there are likely residents who want to learn more about what a potential consolidation could mean for emergency fire, rescue and lifesaving services in their community. We’re happy to be on hand and available to answer questions or provide an overview to residents.”

Malone also said he’s also looking forward to taking questions on any other PFPD-related matters at the event as well.
